

EXPERIMENTAL RULES

USING DAEMON LORDS IN CHAOS DAEMONS ARMIES

Since the publication of the rules for Forge World's Daemon Lords in the Imperial Armour Apocalypse book, a new codex has been published for daemonic armies in Warhammer 40,000. Currently the rules allow the Daemon Lords to be taken as part of a Chaos Space Marine force, (by possessing a model,) but not as part of daemon armies. The daemon army is actually a more appropriate place for these super-daemons than the Chaos Space Marines, so the following rules apply.

The following Daemon Lords can be taken as a HQ choice for a Chaos Daemon army of 2000 pts or more, but must include at least one Troops choice of their patron god's lesser daemon. A Daemon Lord does not have to possess another figure when leading a Daemons army, it enters as normal using the 'daemonic assault' rules. Daemon Lords may never join other units.

- An'ggrath - at least 1 unit of Bloodletters must be present.
- Zarakynal - at least 1 unit of Daemonettes must be present.
- Scabeiathrax - at least 1 unit of Plaguebearers must be present.

DAEMON LORDS ERRATA

Zarakynal's profile, as published in the Imperial Armour Apocalypse book is wrong. Here is her actual profile. This was corrected in the book's Q and A, but is reprinted here for clarity.
